

PUSAT
JANTUNG
Nasional

National Cardiovascular Center
Harapan Kita

Electrophysiology

Electrophysiology is a heart examination using invasive method to record and evaluate the electrical activity of the heart. This examination is simple and safe. The technology of electrophysiology is to hear an electrical signal that measures electrical activity in heart, in order to know the heart condition. Electrophysiology is used to examine and cure heart disease especially arrhythmias.

Contact Us

021 5684085 Ext. 1251